TURKS MAKE NO MOVE ENFORCING ULTIMATUM

HAD ORDERED ALLIED WARSHIPS FROM THE HARBOR AT SMYRNA

British, French and American War Vessels Rode at Anchor in the Harbor or Steamed Along the Shore Where Turks Were Reported Mounting Guns

British Men of War Known to be Steaming at Full Speed Toward the Harbor to Defy the Ultimatum; Dispatches on Situation Reported Delayed

(By United Press)
Paris, Feb. 8, 1:30 p. m.—The French commander at Smyrna reports that up to a late hour last night the Turks made no move to enforce their ultimatum ordering the allied warships from the harbor.

British, French and American war vessels rode at anchor in the harbor or steamed along the shore of the gulf upon whose steep cliffs the Turks were reported to be ranging six-inch guns. Semi-official dispatches sent by the governor of Smyrna had given no word to act, nor had the military commanders made what the French considered a threatening move.

The Turkish governor explained that the ultimatum was given because the Kemalists feared a Greek attack.

Turkey Extends Ultimatum 24 Hours

Constantinople, Feb. 8.—Turkey today extended for 24 hours the ultimatum sent to the allied powers demanding withdrawal of all foreign warships of more than 1,000 tons from Smyrna harbor.

Meantime a French cruiser went at full speed for the forbidden waters and two British battle cruisers were held in readiness. The French indicated they would follow the British example of deliberate defiance of the Turkish ultimatum.

Near East Dispatches Delayed

London, Feb. 8.—Delay in dispatches from the Near East left London in doubt today as to the outcome of the Turkish ultimatum to the allies that all warships over 1,000 tons were required to leave Smyrna harbor before midnight.

British men of war were known to be steaming at full speed toward the harbor to defy the ultimatum, but whether the Turks attempted to drive out the war vessels as they threatened, was not known.

Turkey Has 130,000 Troops in Near East

Washington, Feb. 8.—Turkey has 130,000 troops in the Near East while the British armed forces there total only about 39,000, including 12,300 Indians and native troops, according to United States government information.

Soviet Russia has about 120,000 men in the Caucasus which could be quickly removed to the support of the Turks in event of war between Turkey and Russia on one side and Great Britain on the other.

There are in Thrace 70,000 to 90,000 Greek troops which would fight on the side of the British.

The British fleet in the Near East comprises ten battleships, ten light cruisers and four large destroyers flotillas, besides auxiliaries.

The Americans have in those waters the flagship Vicksburg and 22 destroyers.

Moscow an Enigma Like Angora

London, Feb. 8.—Moscow was as much in enigma as Angora early today, the Soviet government withholding indication of its attitude towards the crisis threatened in the Near East.

Reports from Moscow to Berlin regarding the Ruhr situation said the Bolsheviks were ready to help Germany whenever the latter desired.

Russia Not to Battle Unless Attacked

London, Feb. 8.—Russia is no going to war anywhere unless she is attacked, a spokesman of the Soviet delegation declared here today.

The question of Moscow's attitude toward possible impending trouble in the Near East in view of the close relations of Tchitcherine and Ismet Pasha at Lausanne, troubled allied diplomats and war chiefs when the situation at Smyrna reached a crisis.

Officially the Soviet government was silent, but its London representatives insisted the policy of participating in no aggressive war would be strictly observed in the present instances.

FRENCH TROOPS IN NEW TERRITORY IN CONTINUED ADVANCE

REPORTS FROM ESSEN THAT FRENCH STRENGTHEN GARRISON THERE

GENERAL STRIKE OF GERMAN WORKERS THREATENED AS REPRISAL

(By United Press)
Berlin, Feb. 8.—French troops in newly occupied territory continued their advance at dawn, extending the occupation in the direction of Eberfeld.

Reports from Essen stated the French plan was to strengthen the garrison there with a new battalion. Offenburger dispatches said excitement was increasing and that the invaders directed artillery against that city, and were requisitioning everything as though under wartime conditions.

A general strike of German workers was threatened as a reprisal with communists favoring separate action.

Government reports indicate a growing belief that France intends to make one great militarized zone of the right bank of the Rhine and seize not only coal and coke, but all by-products including dyes.

Radical Labor Troubles

Berlin, Feb. 8.—Radical labor disturbances broke out in Muenchen, Gladbach and Rheindt, the government was informed today.

Laborers counsel, similar to a Russian Soviet, has been formed.

GETTING ADJUSTED TO CONDITIONS

RETURNED SOLDIERS FROM RHINE STRUGGLE WITH ECONOMIC PROBLEMS

(By United Press)
Savannah, Ga., Feb. 8.—Soldiers of the army of occupation, home from the Rhine, struggled today with problems of economy and household duties. Accustomed to lives of luxury in Germany, where their pay of $90 a month enabled them to live lives of luxury, the doughboys were busy today trying to arrange quarters at Ft. Screven and live within their incomes.

The transport St. Mihel after disposing of the soldiers here, sailed for Charleston with 400 officers and men and 41 war brides on board. After docking at Charleston, the transport will go to New York where the remaining contingent will debark.

Joe Bush Night In Brainerd Wednesday

LIONS AND CIVIC ASSOCIATION PAY HONOR TO PITCHER

BRAINERD BOY RELATES EXPERIENCES IN THE BIG LEAGUE TEAMS

AT CIVIC ASSOCIATION TELLS OF HIS TRIP WITH BASEBALL PARTY TO THE ORIENT

It was Joe Bullet Bush night in Brainerd Wednesday, the Lions club and the Brainerd Civic Association entertaining Brainerd's favorite native son, Yankee pitching ace and the pitcher who made the best record in the American League in 1922. It was Joe's first visit in the old home town in seven years and all organizations of Brainerd are vying to show him honors.

Bush, with his friend little Tom Wood, were given a reception and banquet at the Lions club.

Bush was greeted with cheers and shouts that shook the room. He expressed his appreciation of the way he had been received in his own home town, and the feeling for Brainerd that he has always carried with him throughout his baseball career.

The great pitcher dwelt at some length on the fateful "eighth inning" which lost the World's Series for the Yanks, taking his hearers through that chapter play by play.

The Lions listened with much interest to a detailed account of Bush's baseball trip through the Orient this winter, and to his impressions of the people and customs of the Far East.

The exponents of the great American game were well received in every land they visited which included Japan, China, the Philippines and Hawaii.

Tom Wood regaled his hearers with the different methods he has used to reduce his weight 150 pounds and told of some of his experiences at Los Angeles and Hollywood. Tom entertained with a number of dances and songs, playing some of the accompaniments himself.

Rev. Fred Errington presided as chairman of the luncheon in the absence of Dr. W. A. Erickson, president. R. E. Bemmels acted as toastmaster.

Ovation at Civic Association

A committee from the Civic Association, W. H. Cleary, Wm. V. Turcotte and B. L. Lagerquist appeared at the Lions' club and reminded them that Bush had also promised to attend their meeting and they invited the whole club to visit the association. All, including the Lions' orchestra, then repaired to the Civic Association and entered the assembly room singing, "The Gang's All Here".

At the Civic Association Bush was given an ovation. He was introduced by H. P. Dunn, president of the association, who welcomed him to Brainerd and praised his great record in baseball and especially his phenomenal come-back in 1922 and hoped he would continue to keep Brainerd bright on the sport map of the world.

Bush spoke of the mission of the baseball party which toured the Orient and that it had accomplished its purpose in cementing good relations between Japan and the United States was evidenced by the mass of congratulatory telegrams and letters being received in America.

Bush gave the lengthy itinerary of the trip and stated that the American baseball commission was everywhere received with the highest degree of courtesy and good fellowship. The team members played the best baseball they were capable of.

The reception given them by the Marines in Peking was a wonderful one and at the close the Marines band played "Auld Lang Syne", causing the tears to well into the eyes of all.

Bush recited a long list of the Japanese university teams played. In the tour of China, no native teams were played, but the American club at Shanghai sponsored a crack-jack American team which put up a good contest. At Manila teams were played and they were entertained at the Elks and University clubs and most of the golf clubs.

At Honolulu they paid honor to the tomb of Alexander Cartwright, the founder of baseball. In 1845 he organized the first baseball team, the Knickerbockers of New York.

The baseball mission was winned and dined in every large city visited and its best speakers responded to the toasts and did their best to create a favorable impression.

Yanks in Fine Shape
The Yankees said Bush, are in fine shape for a good season in 1923. The hardest contestants to face them will be Detroit.

In conclusion Bush thanked the Civic Association for the courtesy shown him and appreciated in heartfelt manner the attentions paid him.

Fans Banquet Saturday Night
On Saturday night, February 10, at 7:30 o'clock, the fans of the city will tender Bush a banquet at the Ransford hotel. The tickets have been placed at $1 and it is hoped that many will turn out.

The toastmaster will be umpire of the proceedings. After a short batting list of rapid fire speakers, Joe Bush will step on the mound, tell about that eighth inning, and the meeting will resolve itself into a regular stove league discussion.

Bush will answer any questions on baseball that it is humanly possible to answer. He is posted on the record of every American League pitcher and knows the whole league like a book.

It will be the first time in league history that a player has so consented to take up the fine points of baseball and it promises to be one of the most interesting meetings on record.

The Cuyuna Iron range is coming down in force, in fact wherever baseball fans congregate, they are making efforts to get down to the banquet. Swedie Erickson is expected to snowshoe his way to town, George Ridley is coming from Ironton, O. A. Peterson who was the first to call Bush to the pitcher's box in a game with Little Falls will be there. In fact, if you're not at that banquet Saturday night, something must be wrong somewhere.

The banquet was set for Saturday night so that Bush's father and brother could also be present. Many are coming down from the M. & I. As Mr. and Mrs. Bush leave for New York Monday noon, it behooves the fans to be at the banquet to get the last close-up of Joe Bullet and to wish him good luck in his 1923 season.

Banquet tickets can be secured from A. P. Drogseth at the First National bank, the Brainerd Dispatch office, Dutch Strout of the M. & I. offices, Sig Shello in the yards, O. A. Peterson on Front street, W. J. Lyons of Lyons & Baker.

Senator Carley demands an investigation to be made

CHARGES FIVE OF SIX MEMBERS INTERESTED IN IRON MINING
(By United Press)
St. Paul, Feb. 8.—Senator James A. Carley of Plainview launched a bitter attack on the University board of regents in the state senate today.

The senator demanded an investigation alleging five of the six members of the board are interested in iron ore mining industries. Tax revenue from state mines goes into the educational fund which maintains the University.

Senator Carley's resolution also charged the board of regents with opposition to free speech. He asked that his resolution be referred to the education committee for investigation, and the request was granted.

His remarks climaxed a stormy session over confirmation of appointments of Governor Preus. Confirmation of the appointment of the board of regents and Garfield Brown, state public examiner, was held up.

The senate confirmed all the appointments made by Governor Preus in the last two years with the exception of the board of regents and the state public examiner. The governor has made approximately 300 appointments in the last two years.

The only member of the board of regents who escaped the lash of Senator Carley was A. D. Wilson, Hubbard county, who represents agricultural interests on the board.

SON AND HEIR BORN TO BRITAIN'S BELOVED PRINCESS MARY AND THE VISCOUNT LASCELLES LAST NIGHT

(By United Press)
London, Feb. 8.—A son and heir, the sixth removed to the British throne, was born to Britain's beloved Princess Mary and Viscount Lascelles, at Chesterfield House, last night.

Today's official bulletins proclaimed mother and son doing well. King George and Queen Mary were early at the house of Viscount Lascelles and his wife and other members of the royal family called to pay respects to the little newcomer, while popular rejoicing, amounting almost to a public holiday reigned in London.

Word was issued to the effect that the baby, who despite the mother's royal birth, is only a commoner with honorable as his only title, was doing excellently.

The special edition of the court circular said: "Their majesties are gratified to announce that Princess Mary gave birth to a son last night."

The baby is a potential heir to the crown, as matters stand today. Although his royal mother renounced her rank when she married a commoner, there are at present only the four sons of King George and Queen Mary and the Princess Mary herself with her new-born son who are direct descendants of the reigning family.

The entire British empire joined in today's rejoicing. National enthusiasm was strictly personal, nothing of the

ADMINISTRATIVE DRIVE TO FORCE SHIP SUBSIDY BILL

DECIDED ON BY LEADERS HOUSE WAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE

PRESIDENT UNEXPECTEDLY COUPLED DEBT FUNDING AND SUBSIDY BILL

(By United Press)
Washington, Feb. 8.—An administrative drive in the senate to force the decision on the ship subsidy bill demanded by President Harding, was decided on today by leaders as the house ways and means committee took up the bill approving the British war debt settlement.

Mr. Harding's unexpected coupling of the debt funding and the subsidy bill in his message yesterday, left congressional leaders somewhat disconcerted with their carefully prearranged plan for quickly disposing of the debt legislation thrown askew.

A quick effort was made to get together on a new plan that would meet the president's wishes and not endanger passage of the debt legislation by March 3rd when the present congress expires. It was decided that the house ways and means committee should go to work today on the bill introduced by Representative Burton to approve the British settlement terms.

Burton will appear before the committee today to go over the historic background of the negotiations and to submit to questioning by democratic members on the interest rate granted the British government, and other points.

House leaders meanwhile expected to determine their plan of procedure in the house. Representative Mondell, republican floor leader, expects to pass the bill in one day. Whether it will be passed Friday of this week or about the middle of next week may depend to some degree on developments in the senate.

Predicts English Debt Paid in 10 Years
Washington, Feb. 8.—Full payment of the Great Britain five billion dollar war debt to the United States in a little more than ten years was predicted today by Representative Burton of Ohio, a member of the American debt commission in testimony before the ways and means committee.

Burton based his prediction on the belief that Great Britain would make an effort to take advantage of the lower rate of interest agreed on for the first ten years.

The settlement with Great Britain, he said, set the high water mark of agreements for refunding the other war obligations owed this country. He said no higher interest rates than those given Great Britain could be expected from other nations.

8 Hour Working Day
St. Paul, Feb. 8.—Establishment of an eight hour working day throughout the state is provided in a bill introduced in the state senate today by Senator A. O. Devold, Minneapolis.

The bill provides for a constitutional amendment to establish the eight hour day. The only class of labor exempted are farm labor and domestic help.

Senator Nordlin introduced a bill making it a felony for any person to abduct or take away an inmate from the state school for feeble minded.

The senate passed a bill authorizing the city of Minneapolis to issue $3,000,000 in bonds for the erection of a new municipal auditorium.

The bill as passed by the house provided for a $4,000,000 issue and must now go back to the house for agreement.

The senate defeated the bill that all state printing must bear the union label by a vote of 39 to 22.

Friendless Woman Dying at Albany Resembled Lost Heiress
(By United Press)
Albany, N. Y., Feb. 8.—A friendless woman who has just died in a rooming house here, bears a remarkable resemblance to Dorothy Arnold New York heiress, who disappeared years ago and of whom no trace has been found.

The police, comparing the features of the dead woman with those of the missing girl, as shown in photographs, considered the similarity so striking that an immediate investigation was started. The woman gave the name of Mrs. Saunders when she came to the lodging house five years ago.

The bill provides for a constitutional amendment to establish the eight hour day. The only class of labor exempted are farm labor and domestic help.

Senator Nordlin introduced a bill making it a felony for any person to abduct or take away an inmate from the state school for feeble minded.

The senate passed a bill authorizing the city of Minneapolis to issue $3,000,000 in bonds for the erection of a new municipal auditorium.

The bill as passed by the house provided for a $4,000,000 issue and must now go back to the house for agreement.

The senate defeated the bill that all state printing must bear the union label by a vote of 39 to 22.

ADMINISTRATIVE DRIVE TO FORCE SHIP SUBSIDY BILL

DECIDED ON BY LEADERS HOUSE WAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE

PRESIDENT UNEXPECTEDLY COUPLED DEBT FUNDING AND SUBSIDY BILL

(By United Press)
Washington, Feb. 8.—An administrative drive in the senate to force the decision on the ship subsidy bill demanded by President Harding, was decided on today by leaders as the house ways and means committee took up the bill approving the British war debt settlement.

Mr. Harding's unexpected coupling of the debt funding and the subsidy bill in his message yesterday, left congressional leaders somewhat disconcerted with their carefully prearranged plan for quickly disposing of the debt legislation thrown askew.

A quick effort was made to get together on a new plan that would meet the president's wishes and not endanger passage of the debt legislation by March 3rd when the present congress expires. It was decided that the house ways and means committee should go to work today on the bill introduced by Representative Burton to approve the British settlement terms.

Burton will appear before the committee today to go over the historic background of the negotiations and to submit to questioning by democratic members on the interest rate granted the British government, and other points.

House leaders meanwhile expected to determine their plan of procedure in the house. Representative Mondell, republican floor leader, expects to pass the bill in one day. Whether it will be passed Friday of this week or about the middle of next week may depend to some degree on developments in the senate.

Predicts English Debt Paid in 10 Years

Washington, Feb. 8.—Full payment of the Great Britain five billion dollar war debt to the United States in a little more than ten years was predicted today by Representative Burton of Ohio, a member of the American debt commission in testimony before the ways and means committee.

Burton based his prediction on the belief that Great Britain would make an effort to take advantage of the lower rate of interest agreed on for the first ten years.

The settlement with Great Britain, he said, set the high water mark of agreements for refunding the other war obligations owed this country. He said no higher interest rates than those given Great Britain could be expected from other nations.

DOROTHY ARNOLD BELIEVED LOCATED

FRIENDLESS WOMAN DYING AT ALBANY RESEMBLED LOST HEIRESS

(By United Press)
Albany, N. Y., Feb. 8.—A friendless woman who has just died in a rooming house here, bears a remarkable resemblance to Dorothy Arnold New York heiress, who disappeared years ago and of whom no trace has been found.

The police, comparing the features of the dead woman with those of the missing girl, as shown in photographs, considered the similarity so striking that an immediate investigation was started. The woman gave the name of Mrs. Saunders when she came to the lodging house five years ago.

The Motley representative spoke of the "Responsibilities of Future Citizens," and our local representative on "The Near East Situation."

The Park Rapids boy, Mr. Meinke, represents this district at St. Peter at the state contest.

PACIFIC COAST CRIMINAL TAKEN

(By United Press)
Freeport, Texas, Feb. 8.—Phil Alquin, Pacific coast criminal, was arrested today when the steamer Freeport No. 6 arrived here from Tampico. Alquin, held in chains aboard the vessel following his deportation from Mexico, was turned over to Freeport authorities pending arrival of Los Angeles police who want him on a charge of murder.

The arrest of Alquin was believed the key to the apprehension of Clara Phillips, "hammer murderer," who escaped from the Los Angeles jail. Two men held by Los Angeles police will be released as a result of Alquin's arrest, it was understood, and as part of the agreement, the hiding place of Clara Phillips will be revealed.

SCHOOL BOARD PROCEEDINGS

Basement of Lincoln Building to be Improved, Contract Awarded Vernon White

MILL SCHOOL NAMED 'GARFIELD'

Radiation to be Placed in Book Rooms of Harrison and Lowell Buildings

The board of education met in regular session Monday evening. Vice President Elmer L. Dahl presiding in the absence of President George D. LaBar.

A communication was received from the Ministerial Association in regard to dancing in the school. The letter was read and placed on file.

The committee on fuel supplies and printing reported that it had awarded the contract for furnishing 200 cords of green wood to the Mahlum Lumber Co., this firm being the lowest bidder.

The building committee reported as having advertised for bids for furnishing the basement of the Lincoln building on South Sixth Street. In response to this advertisement the secretary had received eight bids. When these bids were opened at the meeting, the contract was awarded to Vernon White at $405, this being the lowest bid.

Under the subject of health and sanitation, Mrs. W. H. Gemmell reported on the work of her committee since the last meeting of the board.

The secretary brought before the board the advisability of placing drinking fountains in the Riverside and Mill school buildings. On motion it was decided to purchase same, and the secretary was so instructed.

The name of the Mill school was officially changed and will be known hereafter as the "Garfield Building."

The building committee was instructed to place radiation in the book rooms of the Harrison and Lowell buildings.

The finance committee reported on the matter referred to them at the last meeting relative to the refunding of forty thousand dollar bond issue which comes due on April first. A resolution was adopted covering this matter.

The treasurer submitted his quarterly report on the condition of the general and sinking funds for the quarter ending January 31st. The report was received and referred to the finance committee for checking.

Both Washington's and Lincoln's birthdays will be observed this year as holidays. No school will be held on either of these days. A program will be given at 9 o'clock in the morning of Washington's birthday which will include appropriate exercises for both occasions.

The Easter vacation will be observed the latter part of March, school closing on March 23rd and opening again on April 2nd.

After allowing the usual list of bills, teachers and janitors payrolls, the board adjourned at about one hour after midnight.

In Informal Way Former National Treasurer of League Discusses Women Voter League Problems

HAS CHARMING PERSONALITY

In Graphic Manner Shows How Work is Handled in the Minneapolis Branch and Results Attained

(Contributed)

The supper given by the League of Women Voters on Tuesday evening, at St. Paul's Episcopal church parlors, was in every way, a decided success. The Episcopal Ladies' Guild and St. Mary's Guild are to be congratulated not only for the excellence of the menu, but also for the efficient way in which they handled the 125 people present. Many favorable comments were heard concerning both.

Mrs. W. C. Rasch, membership chairman of the league presided and gave a short talk explaining the objects for which the meeting had been arranged. Before the guests began to eat Messrs Woodhead and Ebert of Rotarian fame, led in singing some good rousing songs, some of which had been composed for the occasion and were very fitting. These gentlemen did not seem to be particularly pleased with the volume of sound produced but we who were singing were very much pleased with ourselves. We thank these gentlemen, heartily also Miss Marion Opsahl, their able accompanist.

Mrs. W. C. Cobb, 6th District chairman was called upon to introduce the speaker which she did in a very appropriate manner, telling us before hand that she wasn't going to say either too much or too little.

Mrs. Sumner T. McKnight, of Minneapolis, 5th District chairman, formerly National Treasurer of the League of Women Voters then spoke. Mrs. McKnight had been asked to speak upon the aims and achievements of the League in general and of the manner in which things were conducted in Minneapolis her own district, which is generally conceded to be a model district. We, who listened to her did not much wonder at that with such a leader at its head.

Mrs. McKnight has a very charming personality and speaks in an informal way which makes you feel friendly with her at once. She is very much enthused with her work and it is very evident in her handling of her subject. She had brought a chart which showed the divisions and sub-divisions into which the League work was divided and how it was managed and financed. Being so close to St. Paul they are able to get the proposers of bills and other prominent legislators to give them explanatory talks. The League is chiefly behind all legislation for women and children as well as education and efficiency in government. She stressed the fact that the men in the cities were with them in large numbers, and were much interested in their work helping them very materially in a financial way. She gave her hearers a very good idea of what the League had already accomplished.

She was very much pleased with her reception and was sure we must have a good League here, to be able to get out so large an audience. Mrs. McKnight was accompanied by her sister Mrs. Edwin White of St. Paul, Recording Secretary of the State League and a prominent worker of Ramsey county. Many memberships were pledged at the close of the meeting.

PROTECT PUBLIC IN PACKING MERGER

(By United Press)

Washington, Feb. 8.—"Assurances that every legal and legislative action will be taken to protect public interest in the merger of Armour & Company with the Morris packing interests" were given in a special report of the senate investigating committee today.

Senator Kendrick, chairman of the special sub-committee, reported to the senate agricultural committee after an immediate consideration by the agricultural committee of the Norris resolution calling for investigation of the merger.

Kendrick, however, also suggested that no action be taken for the present on the La Follette bill to transfer the powers of the secretary of agriculture over packing companies to the federal trade commission.

MRS. STILLMAN WILL OPEN HAT SHOP IN N. Y.

New York, Feb. 8.—Mrs. Anne U. Stillman is going into the wholesale millinery business in this city, her secretary revealed after Justice Morschauser in White Plains had denied application for extra alimony from her divorced husband, James A. Stillman.

Asked why Mrs. Stillman had selected that particular field of business endeavor, the secretary said: "It is because Mrs. Stillman, who is a very well dressed woman, is interested in all kinds of clothing, perhaps."

CHANGES IN ROAD MARKING

County State Aid Road System Roads to be Designated by Letters Instead of Numerals

THE MARKERS ARE DESCRIBED

Color Combination Black and White, Manner of Placing Them Same as Trunk Highways

Tourists in Minnesota this year will see a number of changes in road markings, especially if they venture off the trunk highways as most of them do, and use the state aid roads.

In a letter to the board of county commissioners of Crow Wing county and to County Highway Engineer, Walter M. Murphy, John H. Mullen, chief engineer of the Minnesota Highway Department says:

"In view of the fact that there is a wide demand for the uniform marking of the County State Aid Road system, and in view of the unquestionable benefit which such a marking would give to the traveling public, it is evident that the time has arrived for the inauguration of this work, and all counties are therefore urged to adopt and proceed with the marking in accordance with the following suggestions, which are made in detail so as to have a uniform standard throughout the state.

"Suggestions: State Aid Roads to be identified by letters instead of by numbers. The alphabetic method, rather than the numerical, being recommended so as to avoid possible confusion with the numbered trunk highway system.

"The marker to consist of the name of the county in the form of a circle, twelve inches in diameter, the letters to be two inches in height. Within the circle will be the letter of the state aid road, using a four inch letter. A print illustrating the marker is being sent to you.

"The color combination of this marker is to be black and white; the marker in black to appear on a white background."

"The manner and method of placing markers should be governed by the same rules and instructions, as far as applicable, as those issued in connection with the marking of the trunk highway system. A copy of these instructions will be sent you upon request.

It is urged that each county take this up with the division, engineer and proceed with the rearrangement of their state aid road system, so as to simplify and make convenient the marking thereof in accordance with the proposed system."

JEWELL'S STRATEGICAL BLUNDER

THE letter of Charles Donnelly, president of the Northern Pacific railroad, sent in reply to a letter and petition received from the city council of Brainerd asking the railroad to confer with its striking employees with a view to the settlement of the strike, points out a number of things that have been obvious to unbiased and intelligent observers for many months.

While the Dispatch consistently supported the men of the shop-crafts through the summer it was not blind to the position assumed by the Northern Pacific and was forced to the conclusion that there was a certain amount of justification for the position taken by the railroad. More than once this column affirmed that Mr. Jewell had made a strategical blunder, and Mr. Donnelly's letter bears out that contention. If a general refuses an armistice when it is offered it is quite likely that the general of the opposing force will refuse a like request when made by the side that has already turned down such an offer.

There is no shadow of doubt that had it not been for Mr. Jewell the men of the Northwest roads would have been back to work in July or August. The Northern Pacific was hard hit because it was completely unionized and after Mr. Jewell had refused to allow a regional settlement this railroad, whose workers stood solidly behind Mr. Jewell, had reason to feel resentment. The Northern Pacific felt that it could have made terms with its own men but was prevented from doing so by an outside labor leader whom the railroad considered outside of the negotiations carried on between the railroads and the representatives of the shop-crafts' unions of the Northwest. When prejudices are cast aside it must be admitted that what the railroad has done since Mr. Jewell's refusal to allow the men of the Northwest to agree to a regional settlement is no more censurable than Mr. Jewell's decision.

The men of the Northwest have paid the price of Mr. Jewell's strategical blunder. Not only did this mistaken strategy alienate the sympathies of the railroads but it put leadership in a position to allow the strike to drift on month after month without any recommendation to the men that they go back to work. Sympathy for the strikers has never covered up the mistaken policies of the leaders of the men.

It is a serious reflection on leadership when it allows men to stay out month after month and has not the stamina to declare that because the strike has failed to accomplish its purpose the men should return to work.

Leaders claim that such decisions must come from the men whose vote alone can decide an issue. Technically this is true, but leaders agitate situations, recommend strikes, send out ballots to get the sentiment of the men as to whether a strike is or is not to be. They are not as active in admitting failure as in agitating men and disturbing relations.

Leadership that enthusiastically encourages a strike, fails to lead to a successful outcome, and vacillates month after month over the question of recommending that it be discontinued has been discredited.

The spirit of Mr. Donnelly's letter seems to show that when the men have returned to work there will be no hard feelings over their cessation of work. In fact, Mr. Donnelly says this right out in public. Therefore, it may be confidently expected that it will not be long until a better spirit prevails on the railroads of the Northwest.

SPENDING THE REFUNDED DEBTS

THERE will be a clamor for the money that is to be repaid by the British government. Politicians will have their eyes on it and special interests will ask to be taken care of. Already there have been requests that the money be used to pay adjusted compensation to the soldiers of the United States who served in the World war. A great deal of pressure will be brought to bear upon the government to have the money devoted to this purpose.

The people of the United States must prepare themselves to prevent the four billion dollars from being thrown away by politicians on worthless projects. Pork for farmers means more to the country than pork for politicians. The money must not be squandered to strengthen political prestige unless it buys something else at the same time.

Recent dispatches have stated that Canada is not likely to go ahead with the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Tideway project because of the economic condition of that country. If this is held up by Canada for the reason named, the United States and more particularly the Northwest will be denied an advantage which is inestimable. What better purpose could the money be put to than completing this project? Canada might be ready to make certain concessions in return for the building of the canals by the United States, and if the facts given out relative to the advantage that would follow the completion of the project are true America would soon gain sufficient from the waterway to compensate this country for the expenditure. The money should be used for constructive purposes, for doing things that need to be done but are held back because of the large investment required. Of such is the Waterway project.

Of course, it would be in line with popular will to use the money to reduce taxes, but reducing taxes is not nearly so important as providing a means of paying high taxes. A prosperous people can meet high taxes while a depressed people cannot pay low taxes without a struggle. If the money is used in large projects that will cheapen transportation, reduce the cost of production and lead to prosperity, the people of the United States will be able to bear the burden of taxes. If the money is all used in reducing taxes the burden on the people will be reduced in the present but nothing will be built for the future.

There is something appealing about using money, that was borrowed to provide weapons of destruction, for purposes of construction. America has the chance of utilizing the money that was borrowed to pay for weapons of war to build bridges to peace and prosperity.

BRAINERD'S DISTINGUISHED VISITOR

It is said that there is always room at the top. This is true, of course, because the top may always be raised by someone who climbs a little higher. But in a country of over one hundred million people it is not easy to reach the top in any branch of life's activity. Therefore, when any man who has gone out from the old home town, to climb to a place where the eyes of a nation are upon him, comes back for a visit, the associates of his boyhood and the people of the city are ready to offer him their whole-hearted congratulations.

This is all the more certain when the achievement has proved the determination of the man to come back after conditions had cast him aside for a while. The splendid determination displayed by Leslie Bush, when there were reasons to fear that he would not be able to continue in fast company on the diamond, is a matter of baseball history and deserves and has won recognition throughout America.

Brainerd's visitor was one of the most prominent men in the United States during a period of the fall of 1922. Thousands watched him as he took his place in the pitcher's box and proceeded to pitch ball; in the larger cities of the land and in the smallest hamlets people read of his fading ball; while in Brainerd, the home of his boyhood, business was almost suspended as the reports came in, so anxious were the people of the home town to know of his doings.

"The Brainerd Meteor" was watched by the people of a nation and the city from which he went out to climb to his high place was given a vast amount of publicity. Brainerd congratulates its son and thanks him for the publicity he has won for his home town.

And now, just before another training period begins and after a trip through the Far East, Leslie Bush is at home. Brainerd is proud of you, Leslie. The old town welcomes your good wife and yourself most heartily. It rejoices in your past successes; appreciates the spirit in which, when it seemed that you were beaten, you went out and staged a come-back after a hard struggle to perfect another throw. Brainerd will watch you through the 1923 season and hopes to watch you through many more seasons. When you win we applaud and when the game is lost—alas, we must admit it—we blame the manager, or the catcher, or the rest of the team.

If Dr. L. D. Coffman's prediction is fulfilled, twenty years from now policemen, firemen, motormen, street sweepers and garbage men, and almost all other men will be university graduates. In those days managers, foremen and superintendents will be at a discount as every man will want to do his task with his head.

WHEN the mayor of St. Paul attempted to control traffic on the highway a truck driver thought he was a bandit and departed hastily.

A SPEAKER praises the American farmer. Eulogies are expected when men are so sick that recovery is uncertain.

TOM WOOD and Joe Bush will be exchanging reminiscences.

NEW HOME REMEDY DISCOVERED

Muco-Solvent Salve (Applied Externally) Now Used With Amazing Results

Heeding the warning published in this paper a short time ago, many have come to realize the grave danger of the common cold and have followed the suggestions made at that time to use the treatment advised by Muco-Solvent laboratory, with the most satisfactory results. Children's colds seem especially susceptible to the treatment although adults are equally strong in their praise of Muco-Solvent Salve.

The treatment, like the remedy, is simply itself. So remarkably simple as to be almost unbelievable. This is due to the fact that the new ointment or salve contains valuable properties, which, when combined in the manner discovered by the laboratory, produce remarkable results.

Relief Over Night

To break a bad cold in one night do this: First, take a laxative, then melt some Muco-Solvent Salve in a spoon or tin cup and inhale the fumes which arise. Breathe deeply. The head opens immediately. Now insert a small amount in each nostril. This allows the vapors to enter the upper respiratory tract, soothing and healing the inflamed membranes. Apply hot towels to chest and throat to open the pores; then rub on Muco Salve thickly and lay on immediately two thicknesses of soft cloth, flannel preferred. The penetrating effect of the salve will aid in scattering the congestion. In the morning your cold will probably be gone.

Physician's Discovery

The late Dr. L. W. Giffin, Neenah, Wis., made a study of the conditions which are common to colds, influenza, bronchitis, membranous croup, etc. He discovered that the combination of certain antiseptics of harmless content, when taken internally would destroy the bacilli and dissolve the phlegm or mucus which gathers. He became widely known and his prescription was compounded by many druggists for the relief of those suffering with colds in head and chest. Owing to the fact that the medicine dissolved the phlegm it became generally known as "Muco-Solvent" and is sold to this day by druggists. The laboratory making Muco-Solvent is the one which discovered Muco-Solvent Salve. If Muco Salve does not help you, try Muco-Solvent (Liquid). It is obtainable at drug stores in 75c and $1.00 bottles and full directions for use are with each bottle. It has been used for forty years in the treatment of la grippe, croup, asthma, bronchitis, etc.

Druggists Helping

The Muco-Solvent Co. is now waging a nation-wide campaign for the elimination of colds. Druggists have been enlisted to help. It is believed that the household uses of Muco-Solvent Salve and Muco-Solvent Liquid will benefit the public greatly.

Consult your druggist. He has very likely handled Muco-Solvent Liquid for thirty or forty years and probably has Muco Salve now, at least we know it can be found at H. P. Dunn Drug Store, Lammon's Drug Store, Skauge Drug Co., Johnson's Pharmacy. And by Fells Drug Co. and Lovdahl Drug Co. at Crosby.

NEW COLD REMEDY
COULD BE MADE
AT HOME

Since you were a child you have been familiar with various and sundry household remedies for colds. Among these are oil eucalyptus, oil turpentine, oil thyme, menthol crystals, etc.

These ingredients in proper proportions combined in petrolatum as a carrying agent form a soothing, healing ointment, which, while very mild and pleasant, has powerful remedial qualities and is known as Muco-Solvent Salve.

Take This Clipping to Your Druggist

Ask your druggist about this, he knows the ingredients well and knows their values. In early times dried leaves of the eucalyptus tree were boiled and the fumes inhaled. Oil of thyme is a germicidal. Oil of turpentine has excellent healing qualities.

Menthol crystals are made from oil of peppermint; in this form used to reduce inflammation in the upper respiratory tract.

Made in small quantities Muco Salve would cost a dollar, but your druggist can sell you a family size jar as prepared by Muco-Solvent laboratory for twenty-five cents.

THOSE WHO SUFFER
CATARRH, ASTHMA

Find Welcome Relief in Muco-Solvent Salve

Catarrh is curable. Asthma is not. It is not claimed that Muco-Solvent will cure catarrh, although it is known to have rendered effective relief when directions are followed as for a common cold.

For asthma apply Muco Salve over spinal column from neck to hips. This aids in relieving the nervous tension, one of the causes of the disease. Apply salve freely to chest and throat and cover with hot flannels. Melt Muco Salve in spoon or tin cup and inhale vapors.

DON'T GIVE BABY "DOPE"

Apply Muco-Solvent Salve Externally—Relieves Colds

Simply send to the drug store for an ordinary 25-cent jar of Muco-Solvent Salve, insert a very little in the child's nostrils and rub freely on chest (will not stain clothing).

The action is two fold, by inhalation and by absorption, the result being the clearing of the nasal passages, the soothing and healing of the upper respiratory tract, and finally the scattering of the congestion.

JEWELL'S STRATEGICAL BLUNDER

THE letter of Charles Donnelly, president of the Northern Pacific railroad, sent in reply to a letter and petition received from the city council of Brainerd asking the railroad to confer with its striking employees with a view to the settlement of the strike, points out a number of things that have been obvious to unbiased and intelligent observers for many months.

While the Dispatch consistently supported the men of the shop-crafts through the summer it was not blind to the position assumed by the Northern Pacific and was forced to the conclusion that there was a certain amount of justification for the position taken by the railroad. More than once this column affirmed that Mr. Jewell had made a strategical blunder, and Mr. Donnelly's letter bears out that contention. If a general refuses an armistice when it is offered it is quite likely that the general of the opposing force will refuse a like request when made by the side that has already turned down such an offer.

There is no shadow of doubt that had it not been for Mr. Jewell the men of the Northwest roads would have been back to work in July or August. The Northern Pacific was hard hit because it was completely unionized and after Mr. Jewell had refused to allow a regional settlement this railroad, whose workers stood solidly behind Mr. Jewell, had reason to feel resentment. The Northern Pacific felt that it could have made terms with its own men but was prevented from doing so by an outside labor leader whom the railroad considered outside of the negotiations carried on between the railroads and the representatives of the shop-crafts' unions of the Northwest. When prejudices are cast aside it must be admitted that what the railroad has done since Mr. Jewell's refusal to allow the men of the Northwest to agree to a regional settlement is no more censurable than Mr. Jewell's decision.

The men of the Northwest have paid the price of Mr. Jewell's strategical blunder. Not only did this mistaken strategy alienate the sympathies of the railroads but it put leadership in a position to allow the strike to drift on month after month without any recommendation to the men that they go back to work. Sympathy for the strikers has never covered up the mistaken policies of the leaders of the men.

It is a serious reflection on leadership when it allows men to stay out month after month and has not the stamina to declare that because the strike has failed to accomplish its purpose the men should return to work.

Leaders claim that such decisions must come from the men whose vote alone can decide an issue. Technically this is true, but leaders agitate situations, recommend strikes, send out ballots to get the sentiment of the men as to whether a strike is or is not to be. They are not as active in admitting failure as in agitating men and disturbing relations.

Leadership that enthusiastically encourages a strike, fails to lead to a successful outcome, and vacillates month after month over the question of recommending that it be discontinued has been discredited.

The spirit of Mr. Donnelly's letter seems to show that when the men have returned to work there will be no hard feelings over their cessation of work. In fact, Mr. Donnelly says this right out in public. Therefore, it may be confidently expected that it will not be long until a better spirit prevails on the railroads of the Northwest.

SPENDING THE REFUNDED DEBTS

THERE will be a clamor for the money that is to be repaid by the British government. Politicians will have their eyes on it and special interests will ask to be taken care of. Already there have been requests that the money be used to pay adjusted compensation to the soldiers of the United States who served in the World war. A great deal of pressure will be brought to bear upon the government to have the money devoted to this purpose.

The people of the United States must prepare themselves to prevent the four billion dollars from being thrown away by politicians on worthless projects. Pork for farmers means more to the country than pork for politicians. The money must not be squandered to strengthen political prestige unless it buys something else at the same time.

Recent dispatches have stated that Canada is not likely to go ahead with the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Tideway project because of the economic condition of that country. If this is held up by Canada for the reason named, the United States and more particularly the Northwest will be denied an advantage which is inestimable. What better purpose could the money be put to than completing this project? Canada might be ready to make certain concessions in return for the building of the canals by the United States, and if the facts given out relative to the advantage that would follow the completion of the project are true America would soon gain sufficient from the waterway to compensate this country for the expenditure. The money should be used for constructive purposes, for doing things that need to be done but are held back because of the large investment required. Of such is the Waterway project.

Of course, it would be in line with popular will to use the money to reduce taxes, but reducing taxes is not nearly so important as providing a means of paying high taxes. A prosperous people can meet high taxes while a depressed people cannot pay low taxes without a struggle. If the money is used in large projects that will cheapen transportation, reduce the cost of production and lead to prosperity, the people of the United States will be able to bear the burden of taxes. If the money is all used in reducing taxes the burden on the people will be reduced in the present but nothing will be built for the future.

There is something appealing about using money, that was borrowed to provide weapons of destruction, for purposes of construction. America has the chance of utilizing the money that was borrowed to pay for weapons of war to build bridges to peace and prosperity.

H. P. DUNN ASPRESIDING OFFICER

First Business Session of New Civic Association Under the New Regime

EXCELLENT SUPPER SERVED

Preparations Made to Meet Minnesota Conservation and Fire Prevention Association Representatives

One hundred business and professional men attended the luncheon and business meeting at the Brainerd Civic Association Wednesday evening. Much credit is due E. J. Quinn who had charge of the supper arrangements, and to Mrs. Quinn, Mr. A. K. Cohen and Miss Bertha Millbauer for the assistance they gave, without which the social committee would have been greatly handicapped.

The business meeting was the first under the new regime. President H. P. Dunn presided with F. E. Stout acting secretary. The meeting occurred in the action of the Board of Directors in selecting George Lowe as third vice president in place of S. R. Adair, who found it impossible to accept this office.

The matter of again changing the name of the club was brought up. The directors at their meeting Monday night, went on record as favoring the change back to the old name of the Brainerd Chamber of Commerce. At the Wednesday meeting of the club, the name definitely decided upon and by which the organization will be known in the future is the "Brainerd Civic and Commerce Association."

A. L. Hoffman, in behalf of the finance committee, gave a detailed verbal report on the finances of the association up to the first of the month of February.

The Association went on record as approving the park movement which will be embodied in a bill before the state legislature to make state park sites at Gull and Mille Lac lakes.

A committee of five were appointed to meet the Minnesota Conservation and Fire Prevention Association representatives who are coming to Brainerd on February 14th to inspect the city relative to fire hazards, rates, etc. This committee is composed of Henry I. Cohen, George Tracy, A. M. Opsahl, R. T. Campbell and Hilding Swanson. These gentlemen will extend the courtesies of the club to the commission and arrange suitable entertainment for the members while they are visiting in Brainerd.

It was decided that in getting out pamphlets for the information of tourists this season, a map be included to show the automobile routes in and out of the city. Some confusion occurred last year when auto visitors wished to find their way out of town, especially through Northeast Brainerd on the Merrifield road.

The secretary was instructed to write our representatives in the legislature to get behind the matter of a twenty million dollar bond issue as proposed by Highway Commissioner C. M. Babcock, which would provide funds for extensive road program during the next two years. The club had recently gone on record as endorsing this bill.

The association went on record as approving the action of the Brainerd Bowling League in sending a team to the American Bowling Congress in Milwaukee, and that the team be individually aided in a financial way, the club not being able to do so as an organization.

The secretary was instructed to request the Mayor and Chief of Police to continue their monthly inspection of the basements of the various business houses in the city.

President Dunn, as is the custom with the new occupant of that office, furnished the meetings with cigars. W. H. Cleary, as first vice president will continue this courtesy at the next meeting on Feb. 14th.

IN MUNICIPAL COURT

Benjamin Powell, Found Guilty of Selling Intoxicating Liquors, Takes Appeal

In municipal court Wednesday afternoon, Benjamin Powell was found guilty of selling intoxicating liquors and fined $100. It is understood that he will take an appeal from this decision, and has furnished appeal bonds.

Edward Radke plead guilty to a charge of transporting liquor and also of being intoxicated. He was sentenced to serve ninety days in the city jail on the first charge, and fined ten dollars or ten days in jail on the second.

Clarence Brown, who was in charge of the Twin Lantern Tea Room on Tuesday night, was in court charged with permitting a breach of the peace, in that vulgar language was used on the premises that could be heard on the street.

The police allege that at one o'clock in the morning they heard loud and indecent talking at this tea room, and on entering found a number of young people, boys and girls, some of whom are attending the high school.

Mr. McMahon, proprietor of the Twin Lantern was at home, and knew nothing of the trouble until later. Mr. Brown stated that he was in the kitchen at the time, so did not hear the language used. He was found guilty as charged, sentence being suspended one week.

Enjoys Sleigh Ride Party on Tuesday Evening Which Was Well Attended

The Sophomore class of the high school enjoyed a sleigh ride party Tuesday night, which, considering the cold weather was very well attended by the class.

After riding out Oak street, and around the downtown district, the party returned to the school where a very fine luncheon was served.

Among the teachers present were Miss Schon, Miss Flitch and Miss Spink, the class advisor.

Everyone expressed themselves as having a fine time.

Circle No. 3 Lunch

Ladies Circle No. 3 of the First Congregational church will serve a hot cafeteria lunch from 11:30 A. M. to 6:30 P. M. Saturday, February 10, at the Judd Wright & Son hardware store. Tables will be arranged for all. Everybody welcome.

ORCHESTRA LED NEW SONGS

Arthur Lyddon Tells of American Legion Aims, Frank Zwack Spoke of Bowling Congress

The business meeting of the Lions club Wednesday night was one of the most important and interesting in the history of that organization. In addition to entertaining Joe Bullock, Bush and Tom Wood, the club had a program lasting until after eight o'clock. The orchestra led in singing a number of new songs recently adopted by the organization.

Arthur Lyddon, commander of the local post of the American Legion, gave an interesting review of that organization since its beginning, and told of its accomplishments and aspirations.

O. J. Bouma, in behalf of the Lions presented Lyle Northrup and Arthur Johnston with the first and second prizes, respectively, which the club offered in the recent oratorical contest. These young men were guests of the club at the luncheon.

Frank Zwack, representing the Brainerd Bowling League, appeared before the meeting and begged the assistance of the Lions in helping to finance the sending of a Brainerd team to the American Bowling Congress in Milwaukee.

This is the first time in a number of years that this big tournament has been held west of Chicago, and it offers a wonderful opportunity to teams in the middle west that heretofore have been unable to compete, due to the heavy expense of taking a team east.

The Milwaukee event is recognized as the champion bowling tournament of the world. Some 2,500 teams are entered from all sections of the country. Each team is designated with a particular uniform, upon which is lettered the name of its town. This information is also announced when the team goes into action, and is printed in the score books that go into the hands of the thousands of spectators, thus giving the different cities represented much publicity.

The Lions endorsed the entering of a team in the tournament and appointed a special committee to assist in raising funds to cover the necessary expenses. It is felt that Brainerd will gain much advertising through entering a team, and it is hoped that the citizens of the city will respond liberally to this end.

Junior Young Peoples Society

The Junior Young Peoples Society of the Bethlehem Lutheran church will meet tomorrow afternoon in the church parlors, and will be entertained by Mrs. L. Zakariassen and Mrs. P. M. Zakariassen. The little ones will furnish the program. Everybody cordially welcome.

BRAINERD HAS 6 VICTORIES

Some New Combinations to be Tried Out in the First Teams Attack

(W. G.)

Yea, more meat for the sporting bloods. Brainerd's victorious basketballers will clash with Crosby-Ironton Friday evening on the home floor. Brainerd has six victories to her credit. Will this be the seventh?

Crosby has been playing good basketball this season, and they may surprise us in tomorrow's event. The Blue and White have subdued them once this season on the ore heavers' own floor, but admit that a great deal of difficulty was experienced with Johnny Stark, Crosby's cyclone forward. Johnny is quite a storm when he gets into action, but then, Brainerd has several little zephyrs of her own.

Some new combinations will be tried out in the first team. The last one will start out against Little Falls in that game on Monday. Be on hand Friday night and see which men you think work best together.

Motley is coming to play the curtain-raiser with the local second team. They have a good team, but that also applies to our second string. A stormy battle is predicted.

The same excellent support of the local fans is anticipated at Friday night's game that has been given in the past, and the spectators are promised their money's worth, and more.

Should a Bank Loan Money for Advertising

by FESTUS J. WADE

President, MERCANTILE TRUST COMPANY of St. Louis

WHEN we strike at advertising, meaning, of course, efficiently applied advertising, we strike at salesmanship, and the heart of business. For the banker to do anything to retard business right now is suicide.

When the merchant pulls down his shingle and waits for business to come to him in a buyers' market, we laugh at him, and call him a poor business man.

When he is forced to cut down one of his best methods of selling because his banker considers advertising an unnecessary item of expense and refuses an otherwise deserved loan purely on that principle, it is my humble opinion that we should laugh at the banker, and feel sorry for the merchant.

Don't mistake my meaning. It is a basic banking principle that a loan must be well secured, and a firm cannot borrow merely because it is a big and successful advertiser. But the fact that it is a believer in advertising and wants to use a portion of the money for that purpose should never stand in its way when it calls on the Bank's credit department.

First Business Session of New Civic Association Under the New Regime

EXCELLENT SUPPER SERVED

Preparations Made to Meet Minnesota Conservation and Fire Prevention Association Representatives

One hundred business and professional men attended the luncheon and business meeting at the Brainerd Civic Association Wednesday evening. Much credit is due E. J. Quinn who had charge of the supper arrangements, and to Mrs. Quinn, Mr. A. K. Cohen and Miss Bertha Millbauer for the assistance they gave, without which the social committee would have been greatly handicapped.

The business meeting was the first under the new regime. President H. P. Dunn presided with F. E. Stout acting secretary. The meeting occurred in the action of the Board of Directors in selecting George Lowe as third vice president in place of R. R. Adair, who found it impossible to accept this office.

The matter of again changing the name of the club was brought up. The directors at their meeting Monday night, went on record as favoring the change back to the old name of the Brainerd Chamber of Commerce. At the Wednesday meeting of the club, the name definitely decided upon and by which the organization will be known in the future is the "Brainerd Civic and Commerce Association."

A. L. Hoffman, in behalf of the finance committee, gave a detailed verbal report on the finances of the association up to the first of the month of February.

The Association went on record as approving the park movement which will be embodied in a bill before the state legislature to make state park sites at Gull and Mille Lac lakes.

A committee of five were appointed to meet the Minnesota Conservation and Fire Prevention Association representatives who are coming to Brainerd on February 14th to inspect the city relative to fire hazards, rates, etc. This committee is composed of Henry I. Cohen, George Tracy, A. M. Opshal, R. T. Campbell and Hilding Swanson. These gentlemen will extend the courtesies of the club to the commission and arrange suitable entertainment for the members while they are visiting in Brainerd.

It was decided that in getting out pamphlets for the information of tourists this season, a map be included to show the automobile routes in and out of the city. Some confusion occurred last year when auto visitors wished to find their way out of town, especially through Northeast Brainerd on the Merrifield road.

The secretary was instructed to write our representatives in the legislature to get behind the matter of a twenty million dollar bond issue as proposed by Highway Commissioner, C. M. Babcock, which would provide funds for extensive road program during the next two years. The club all. Everybody welcome.

had recently gone on record as endorsing this bill.

The association went on record as approving the action of the Brainerd Bowling League in sending a team to the American Bowling Congress in Milwaukee, and that the team be individually aided in a financial way, the club not being able to do so as an organization.

The secretary was instructed to request the Mayor and Chief of Police to continue their monthly inspection of the basements of the various business houses in the city.

President Dunn, as is the custom with the new occupant of that office, furnished the meetings with cigars. W. H. Cleary, as first vice president will continue this courtesy at the next meeting on Feb. 14th.

IN MUNICIPAL COURT

Benjamin Powell, Found Guilty of Selling Intoxicating Liquors, Takes Appeal

In municipal court Wednesday afternoon, Benjamin Powell was found guilty of selling intoxicating liquors and fined $100. It is understood that he will take an appeal from this decision, and has furnished appeal bonds.

Edward Radke plead guilty to a charge of transporting liquor and also of being intoxicated. He was sentenced to serve ninety days in the city jail on the first charge, and fined ten dollars or ten days in jail on the second.

Clarence Brown, who was in charge of the Twin Lantern Tea Room on Tuesday night, was in court charged with permitting a breach of the peace, in that vulgar language was used on the premises that could be heard on the street.

The police allege that at one o'clock in the morning they heard loud and indecent talking at this tea room, and on entering found a number of young people, boys and girls, some of whom are attending the high school.

Mr. McMahon, proprietor of the Twin Lantern was at home, and knew nothing of the trouble until later. Mr. Brown stated that he was in the kitchen at the time, so did not hear the language used. He was found guilty as charged, sentenced being suspended one week.

COMMERCIALISM IN ATHLETICS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Feb. 8.—Taint of commercialism, the greatest evil of sports, is not confined to professional activities. Its influence and its bad effect are beginning to be felt in amateur athletics.

Paul H. Henning, chairman of the registration committee of the central A. A. U. district and one of the most active supporters of amateur athletics in the United States, recently suspended Joie Ray because the famous little middle-distance runner had participated in an unsanctioned boxing tournament.

Big athletic clubs in New York which were planning to feature the appearance of Ray at their winter meets protested. Henning was overruled. Ray was reinstated and Henning resigned.

Henning declared it was a question of gate receipts and that violation of the rules was not considered.

Until the big clubs began to fall for the temptation of the "gate," amateur track and field athletics under the jurisdiction of the A. A. U. were the best governed sport in the world. It is still an efficient organization. It has been criticized for autocratic measures at times, but strict discipline requires strict methods.

The A. A. U. is still a wise and scrupulous supervisor of the athlete, but it should apply the same zealous attention to the clubs.

To give an example of the lines of distinction drawn between the athletes and the clubs, a recent incident is recalled. Several big clubs advertised and drew big crowds on the promise that many star athletes would compete. The stars failed to appear and the crowds naturally protested with yells of "the bunk."

Loren Murchison, Jack Scholz and Sol Butler, three prominent athletes, were summoned to appear before the registration committee and explain why they did not appear. It developed that none of them had signed an entry blank and that the club had used their names without their permission.

Scholz claims that it is not the first time that he has been made the victim of such practices.

Instead of being so ever ready to plaster a suspension on an athlete, the A. A. U. ought to give some of the club officials a vacation.

Caveman Tactics Fail With Constance Talmadge

Although an unusually modest miss, Constance Talmadge takes inordinate pride in the fact that she has two lovers instead of the usual one allotted in "The Primitive Lover," the current First National attraction which is showing at the New Park last time tonight. The star has the role of Phyllis Tomley, awinsome young lady whose charms excite the ardor of two suitors, one a very practical, level headed business man and the other a novelist and explorer.

The evolution of the story brings in a sparkling contrast in love mak-bristles with humor and good comedy. Constance Talmadge, in the starring role, supplies most of the laughs, although she is ably abetted by Harrison Ford and Kenneth Harlan.

FANNING WITH ARRELL

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Feb. 8.—Taint of commercialism, the greatest evil of sports, is not confined to professional activities. Its influence and its bad effect are beginning to be felt in amateur athletics.

Paul H. Henning, chairman of the registration committee of the central A. A. U. district and one of the most active supporters of amateur athletics in the United States, recently suspended Joie Ray because the famous little middle-distance runner had participated in an unsanctioned boxing tournament.

Big athletic clubs in New York which were planning to feature the appearance of Ray at their winter meets protested. Henning was overruled. Ray was reinstated and Henning resigned.

Henning declared it was a question of gate receipts and that violation of the rules was not considered.

Until the big clubs began to fall for the temptation of the "gate," amateur track and field athletics under the jurisdiction of the A. A. U. were the best governed sport in the world. It is still an efficient organization. It has been criticized for autocratic measures at times, but strict discipline requires strict methods.

The A. A. U. is still a wise and scrupulous supervisor of the athlete, but it should apply the same zealous attention to the clubs.

To give an example of the lines of distinction drawn between the athletes and the clubs, a recent incident is recalled. Several big clubs advertised and drew big crowds on the promise that many star athletes would compete. The stars failed to appear and the crowds naturally protested with yells of "the bunk."

Loren Murchison, Jack Scholz and Sol Butler, three prominent athletes, were summoned to appear before the registration committee and explain why they did not appear. It developed that none of them had signed an entry blank and that the club had used their names without their permission.

Scholz claims that it is not the first time that he has been made the victim of such practices.

Instead of being so ever ready to plaster a suspension on an athlete, the A. A. U. ought to give some of the club officials a vacation.

AMUSEMENTS

Caveman Tactics Fail With Constance Talmadge

Although an unusually modest miss, Constance Talmadge takes inordinate pride in the fact that she has two lovers instead of the usual one allotted in "The Primitive Lover," the current First National attraction which is showing at the New Park last time tonight. The star has the role of Phyllis Tomley, winsome young lady whose charms excite the ardor of two suitors, one a very practical, level headed business man and the other a novelist and explorer.

The evolution of the story brings in a sparkling contrast in love mak-

bristles with humor and good comedy. Constance Talmadge, in the starring role, supplies most of the laughs, although she is ably abetted by Harrison Ford and Kenneth Harlan.

ture, "Across the Continent," Wallace Reid will be seen at the Lyceum theatre for two days beginning tomorrow. This said to provide Mr. Reid with one of the best screen roles in which he has been seen since "What's Your Hurry." Mary MacLaren is his leading woman. Theo. Roberts is also in the supporting cast.

"Remembrance" at the Lyceum

We have had heart appeal in mother pictures, such as Goldwyn's production of "The Old Nest," and now comes an equally sympathetic story of the father of a family in "Remembrance," Goldwyn's newest super-feature which is being presented at the Lyceum last time tonight. It is a remarkable picture, unlike anything heretofore attempted on the screen, and is bound to interest all classes and ages of theatre-goers.

BUSINESS WOMAN AND EX-CONVICT WED

Louis Eytinge, who served sixteen years of a life sentence in prison for murder, and who was paroled, entered business and made good in the fullest sense of the word, is pictured here with his wife who was Miss Lauline L. Diver, a New York business woman. They were married only recently, and are to leave soon on a honeymoon. Eytinge's case is attracting much attention among prison welfare workers, for his record is one that is held up as an example to others who have "records."

Once Immigrant Now Gives Away Enormous Business

100 FACTORIES IN RUSSIA ARE MAKING VODKA

(By United Press)
Moscow (By Mail).—Petrograd is trying to come back.

A number of factories are being reopened in the former capital of the old Russia. These are largely for the manufacture of vodka, which is booze of 40 horsepower. This Russian drink is 40 per cent alcohol and has some kick.

The newly formed spirit-trust is building 10 factories at Petrograd of which six are practically completed and two of them are turning out vodka.

Since Russia decided to be wet again, the manufacture of vodka is being resumed on a big scale. The thirsty Russians have no cause to be worried over the supply, for in addition to the stored liquor being released, 100 factories are making vodka out of potatoes, grain and sugar.

Under the Czaristic regime a certain amount of the revenues of the sale of vodka was devoted to educate the people a sto the bad influences of the vodka.

The present regime, too, intends to devote a certain amount for the education of the people for which purpose a certain sum will be handed over to the department of education.
